Youth

In His Divine Plan, Almighty God selected each one of us for a purpose. Since the beginning of time you and I have been assigned a mission to accomplish, a goal to attain.

When God breathed into each one a soul, He also equipped that soul with the necessary tools to achieve this specific objective. Using these tools we are to construct a solid framework for our life. Thus we become architects of our destiny, utilizing our gifts and talents toward the end which He intended.

The years of building are the important years. To select the proper material is not sufficient; it is even more essential to know how to use it. Any flaw now escaping our attention will manifest itself later in life. Let us not tolerate second-rate performance on the assumption that poor workmanship will not be noticed. The One for whom we build is Infinitely Perfect and All-Seeing.

To the solid foundation of religion, languages, mathematics, and science laid in school life, we shall add the walls and roof of our vocation and career. The edifice is to be further ornamented by activities which enrich and beautify — the work of a life-time.

So the building will continue until we shall have erected our mansion of Eternal Life — our habitation forevermore. As we shall have built, so shall we live.

Activities

Latin Club

The Latin Club, established less than two years ago, has already made much progress. Under the direction of Sister Petronilla, the moderator, the seniors and juniors who are members strive to have a better understanding of Latin culture and background. These students are finding, as the club motto suggests, that Res Latina Viam Ducit, Latin Leads the Way.

TINNITUS, TINNITUS — Jule Ann Sitek, Marcella Galfy, Susan Gormly, Jane Silbernagel and Joan Ducas celebrate Christmas Latin style.

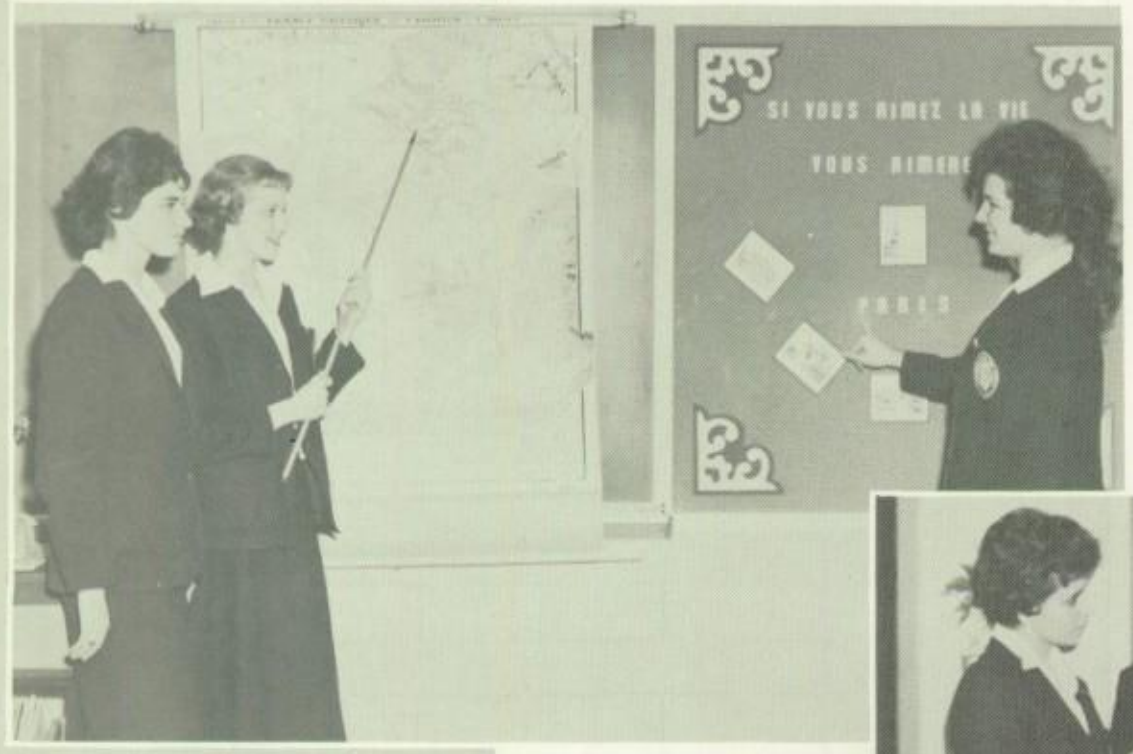
LATIN SCHOLARS — Sister Petronilla accepts another Latin trophy as the girls who won it Mary Lynn Heurich, Joan Buddenhagen, and Barbara Chmielak look on.

Le Cercle Français

The French Club, with Sister M. Margarette as moderator, is the channel by which French culture and activities flow into Archbishop Walsh High School. Through its various activities the students increase their fluency in French conversation. The principal project of the year is the French adaptation of "Snow White", or more appropriately "Blanche-Niege"!



"HERE IT IS!" — Officers of Le Cercle Français, Claire Biunno, Barbara Chmielak, and Joyce Sabatos are enchanted by pictures of Paris.

"QUI SERA BLANCHE-NEIGE?" — Boning up on their French are Joan La Ferrera, Jean Ann McConnell, Joyce Hillner, Marcella Galfey, and Regina Donroe, hopefuls for the leading part of Snow White.

Walsh Weavings

If information is what you are looking for, you'll find it fast in the pages of your Walsh Weavings. Walsh Weavings, which ranks high among school newspapers, is issued monthly by the staff members. This past fall the staff visited Fordham for a day of journalism. The results can be seen in the editorials, reports, the lively sports stories, and the newspaper in general.

Co-Editors . . . . . Paul Burst, Tim Mennuti

Associate Editors . . . . . Thomas Cort, Gail Demko

Sports Editor . . . . . James Hand

Photographers . . . Charles Weber, Phyllis Orlando

Artists . . . . . George McDermott, Robert Smith

Glee Club

President . . . . . Melanie Janusz
Secretary . . . . . Mary Jo Turner
Librarian . . . . . Patricia Bradley

The Glee Club encourages its members toward perfection in singing. Mrs. Carpenito and Sister Coronata blend the voices of the fifty students and prepare vocal arrangements for both enjoyment and exhibition. The Glee Club girls represent Walsh at extra-curricular functions, among these the Human Relations Institute, and the Christmas Party of the Rosary Society.

SOUND YOUR A GIRLS! — The sopranos of the Glee Club at the Rosary Society's Christmas Party.

OH! HOW THE ANGELS SING!! — With Joan Mury at the piano, Patricia Pilas, Barbara Dwyer, Joan Ricciardi, Joyce Hillner, Mary Karosen, Carol Krychiw, Patricia Bradley, and Barbara Pollak go over last minute details before singing at the Rosary Society's Christmas Party.

SCHOLA AT WORK — Members of the Schola celebrate the Mass by chanting responses.

Schola

President
Patricia Homza

Secretary
Paula Kaufmann

Librarians
Carol Calimano
Mary Eileen Keane

The Schola is comprised of girls of all four years belonging to St. Leo's Parish. They sing for Sunday High Mass, Christmas Midnight Mass, Easter vigils and ceremonies, First Masses, Forty-Hours Devotion, and important feast days. Sister M. Coronata is the director and Mrs. Carpenito, the organist.

STAIRWAY TO SUCCESS — Ellen Isemann, Kathy Homza, Carol Ann Genabith, Edith Gallucci, Betty Baumgartner, Madeline Malovaney, Mary Brennan, and Cecilia Dolch are on their way to Choir practice.

"SANCTUS, SANCTUS!" — Members of the Schola warm up on Sunday morning after the nine o'clock Mass.

DEMONSTRATING TALENTS — Members of the Schola rehearse for the Demonstration Mass.

Camera Club

President . . . . . Charles Weber
Vice President . . . . . Stephen Leonardis
Secretary . . . . . Eve Feret

Under its moderator, Sister M. Walter, the Camera Club has attempted to activate interest in photography. A fully equipped darkroom has been provided. Members have aided each other by instructing them in the proper use of the equipment. Under this climate, the bud of talent has bloomed into a magnificent flower.

SHUTTER BUGS — Katherine Homza, Harriet Dziuban, and James Ford are instructed in camera taking by Charles Weber.

WHAT'S DEVELOPING?

Carol Zajac, Stephen Leonardis, Virginia Parlan and Eve Feret enthusiastically view their darkroom efforts.

Library Club

President . . . . . Walter Nieliwocki
Vice President . . . . . Mary Laszok
Secretary . . . . . Dolores Scheick, Gail Demko
Treasurer . . . . . John Tully

To stimulate the interests of budding bibliophiles s the main purpose of the Library Club. Keeping the ibrary in good condition, signing out books, and plac- ng books in order are some of the activities of this club directed by Sister Marie. In return the members receive a fine knowldege of library science. They will never be at a loss of information in the library.

NEAT AND ORDERLY — John Wojcik and James Rinaldi of the Library Club keep Sister Marie's books in perfect order.

LIBRARY CLUB AT WORK — Dolores Scheick, Mary Laszok, John Kwiatkowski, and Walter Nielwoiki are busily putting magazines in order.

Dramatic Club

The Genisian Guild, our dramatic club, has taken an adventurous step into the world of entertainment. The club, directed by Mrs. Schreck, put on a successful production of "Boy Meets Family", a farce in one act. This club provides an outlet for the histrionic ability of the students.

ON STAGE 60 SECONDS Tension mounts as Juniors, Kathy Brady, Ellyn Brown, Diane Reiner, Kathy Devine, Pat Greeley and Frank Lijak await the last 60 seconds before stage time.

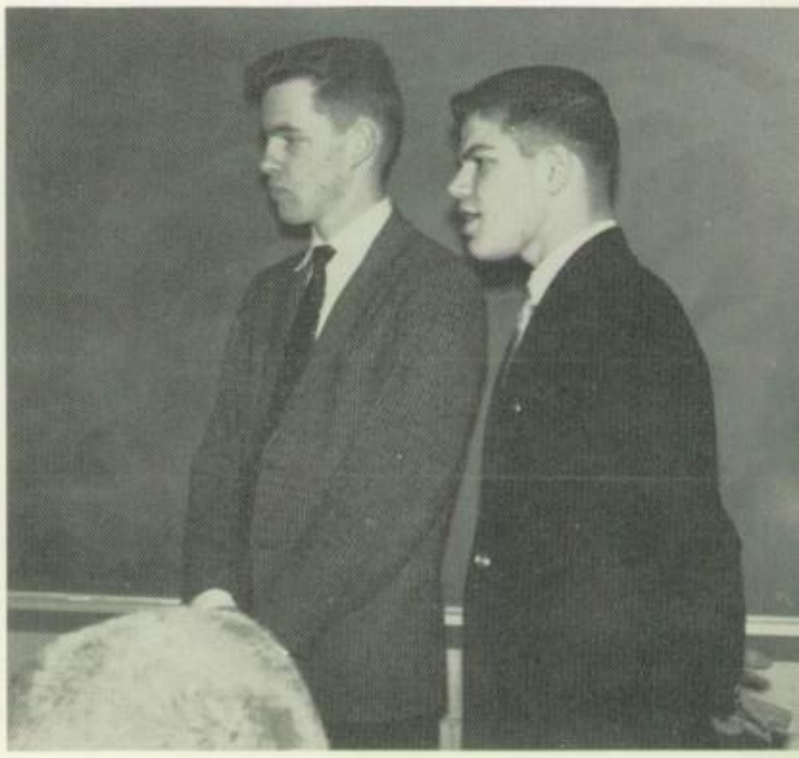
BROADWAY BOUND! Arthur Flynn, Larissa Janiw, Robert Neri, Mary Ellen Schoonover, Eileen Keane, and Howard Leary form the cast of Boy Meets Family.

SCIENTIFIC THOUGHT Mary Kleissler, Virginia Burns, and Dennis Hughes concentrate on answering Chemistry quiz questions asked by Jim Boland.

The Science Club, better known as the Nucleus Club, was organized to allow our potential scientists to exhibit their talents. At present the club is undertaking projects ranging from hydroponic gardening to rocketry. Matching wits with the Juniors, the Senior members of the club won a quiz. In the near future a trip is planned for eager members.

Nucleus Club

President . . . . . James Hand
Vice President . . . . . Wayne Miller
Secretary . . . . . Margaret Cobb



KNOW YOUR PHYSICS? Defending the junior title in the sc ence club are Wayne Miller and Vi Zappa.

"NEED ANY SUPPLIES?"

Mary Newcombe and Ann Van Cleve ask whether Ronald Petracca and Joseph Nadzen need commercial supplies.

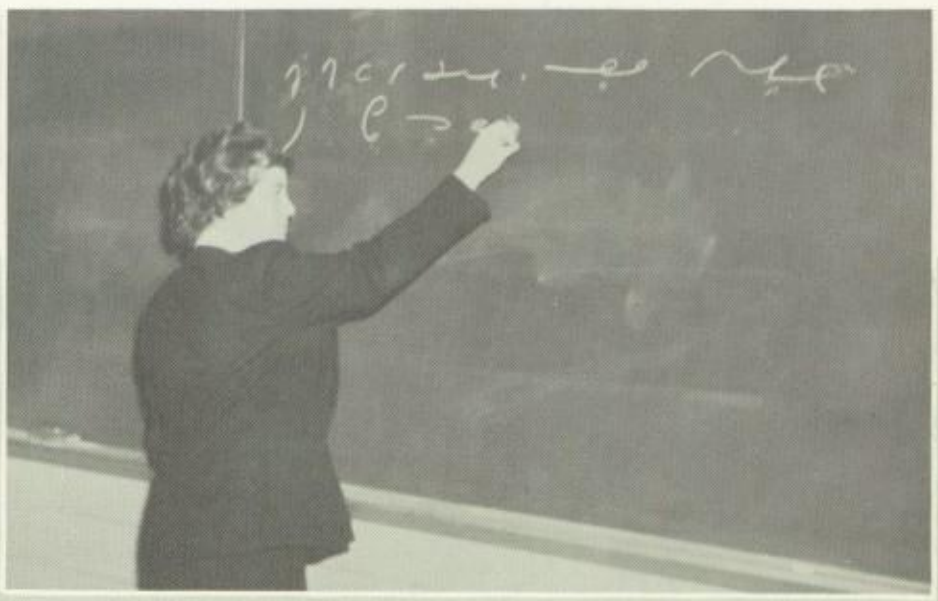
Commercial Club

President . . . . . Margaret Cassidy
Vice President . . . . . Mary Newcombe
Secretary . . . . . Florence Tambasco

Designed to introduce the students in the commercial course to the business world. The Commercial Club strives to show them how the realm of typists and stenos operates. Speakers from various firms, as well as visits to these companies, enhance the many activities of the club. Each year the Club compiles and distributes a Student Directory. In the spring, the girls demonstrate the proper attire for various occasions, from a day at the office to a prom, with ??

"LOOK OUT FOR YOUR FINGERS!"

Margaret Bogstahl is cautious as she cuts paper for Commercial Club duties.



LOOKS LIKE GREEK TO ME!

Pat O'Connor seems to know what all those odd shaped marks mean as she diligently does her shorthand.

PUT A RED LEAF ON THAT ONE!

Eileen McGinty, Karen Kumpf, Judy Calabrese, Virginia Dukes, Lillian Kimmig, Barbara Bussiculo, Jane Silbernagel, and Ellen Farmer make corsages for the Missions.

BOYS SAVE GREEN STAMPS TOO?

Joining the modern trend of stamp-saving are Peter Marie, Dennis Hughes and Eugene Culkin.

Mission Club

President . . . . . Dennis Hughes
Vice President . . . . . Jane Silbernagel
Secretary . . . . . Eugene Culkin

The Mission Club, with Sister Margarette as its moderator, leads the school through various charitable works and campaigns throughout the year. The Advocate Drive and the coupon and stamp drives are just some of the many mission projects. The students at Walsh High contribute their wholehearted support to each and every campaign.

BUY A CORSAGE FOR THE MISSIONS!

Freshman Mission Representatives Claire Schneider, Patricia Ienni, Carol Bartkowski, and Suzanne Ryan prepare to distribute Christmas corsages to their respective classes.

THE STAFF IN A HUDDLE — The staff of the Buchmann Beacon plan and do research for the 1960 yearbook.

WALSH AND WALDORF — Buchmann Beacon delegates to the Columbia Press Association, Joyce Sabatos, Margaret McHugh, Joyce Hillner and Patricia Gaynor emerge from the press banquet at the Waldorf.

BUCHMANN TYPISTS AT WORK — Joann Isemann, Sandy Farrell, Gail Gingrich, Pat Lennon, Carol Sorchinski and Judy Anderson tackle some yearbook write-ups.

FOUNTAIN FOR YOUTH — Walsh's fair ladies, Joan Ricciardi, Barbara Zach, Peggy Cobb, and Margaret McHugh enjoy between yearbook conferences, the campus of Columbia University.

CHECK AND DOUBLECHECK

Mary La Russo, chief typist for the Buchmann Beacon looks over some important copy.

"WE APPROVE"

Tom Cort, Evelyn West, and Betty Smith admire Roger Woodhour's creation for the 1960 yearbook cover.

Public Relations Council

Advisory Board

James Boland
Dennis Hughes
Joyce Sabatos
Barbara Wulff

"LIGHT OF THE SCHOOL"

The officers of the Public Relations Council pose for a formal picture. Representing the Council are James Boland, Dennis Hughes, Barbara Wulff, and Joyce Sabatos.

As salt is to food, as leaven is to bread, so is the Public Relations Council to Archbishop Walsh High School. It is the responsibility of this council, with Sister M. Gerard as moderator, to uphold to the fullest the standards of our school, to smooth out all the flaws and rough edges, to bring about a closer relationship between all students and the members of the faculty, all of which will result in an obvious spirit of cooperation and harmony leading to successful and fruitful school year. Evidence of the work of the council may be found at noon time in the cafeteria, in the organization of various tournaments and contests, and in such important mysteries as the "Be Prepared" signs to "Heed and Read the Red Book Now!" The members proudly pledge themselves to do the best they can for you, the students, as well as for the overall good of strengthening and preserving the spirit of Walsh High.

O RAPTURE, O BLISS!

"BE PREPARED!"

Participants in the Handbook Quiz answer questions from the red book.

"HOLY NIGHT, SILENT NIGHT" The junior class pays homage to the birth of Christ as Joyce Sabatos portrays the Blessed Mother.

NO UNIFORM TODAY! Walsh High girls enjoy the Senior Christmas Party.

It WAS a White Christmas

WALSH FLOWERS? DEFINITELY NOT—IT'S ONLY A BRIEF PAUSE Harriet Dziuban, Vinny Coppola, Beth Fetzer, Richie Fachet, Jack Pellek, Barbara Zach, John Kelley, Mary Karosen, Jackie Wiggins, and Gary Sabatos.

WALSHITES WELCOME THE NEW YEAR Mary Karosen, Joe Krukauskas, Anita Imperatrice, Richard Hingos, Kathy Homza, and Terry Mennuti, welcome in the new year at the Watch Dance.

"RINGING IN THE NEW" is the fitting saying for: Kathieen Olvaney, Joan Ducas, Eugene Culkin, Richard Niewiarowski, Patricia Homza, Armand Pouliat seated clockwise at the first table and Susan De Francisco, Frank Lijak, Lorraine Sobelewski, and Jan Kruty seated at the second table.

ALMOST FINISHED!! Juniors Richard Niewiarowski and George McDermott decorate for Christmas.

WHO STOLE THE TABLE? Walshites and their dates sit out a cha-cha at the Watch Dance.

MOVE THE LEAF UP A LITTLE HIGHER Rita Kushner and Joanne Pisopia decorate their home-room for the holiday season.

Dear Ray,

This year has been a real tough one and mostly because you helped make it so. Don't forget the good times we had after school every day over at "Karma." And the junior prom that I never got to. Have a good time this summer and always play as nice as you are. I hope that we will always remain friends. Best of luck and success to a future senior.

Love,
Carol

P.S. Don't change just because you're about to be a big senior at Tolch.
